FOX HUNTING IS MUCH ENJOYED

Mecklenburg No Less Gay Than at Any Time of the Season.

MANY GUESTS COMING IN September is Favorite Month at This Increasingly Popular Resort.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

THE MECKLENBURG, CHASE CITY, VA., Sept. 9.—There is evidence everywhere of the breaking up of the summer season guests at Virginia resorts, resulting in goodly numbers testing the sweets of the Mecklenburg.

As find a grey fox as has been seen here for a long time was killed Monday last by a party of three, Colonel W. T. Hughes, and Messrs. Harry and Lamar Davis. The whole of the Mecklenburg's pack was in hot haste after the brush, so near were the hunters that the fox came near being taken alive in the briars. There was an afternoon hunt on a worst day and the pack behaved beautifully. Ring, Snow and Johnson are the bug dogs of the kennels for form, scent and speed combined.

The three successful Times-Dispatch contestants arrived here duly certificated on Monday last, and no doubt but that Misses Eleanor Haynes and Eva Morduck, of Richmond, and Mrs. W. T. Haynes, of Walkerton, will deserve all in pleasure and benefit that they expect and more.

Mr. A. L. Haynes, of McCarthy and Haynes, stepped over for a day or so to spot the place, contemplating a future longer patronage.

Every one regrets the departure of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pollard from their Richmond home, and no guests have been more popular here than this representative couple of the Hill City.

Petersburg is well represented by Mr. Bartlett Roper, Sr., and Mr. Bartlett Roper, Jr., who have easily adapted themselves to enjoyable society and other conditions of this resort, and are very popular people.

Fox-Hunting Party.

Wednesday morning a five o'clock party of fox hunters started from here, consisting of Colonel W. T. Hughes and wife, in the saddle, and children in the pony cart; Mr. R. L. Carr with Miss Laura Webb in a buggy; Miss Hankin, of Redsville; Mr. and Mrs. Hartman, Captain Hayes, Harry Davis, of Norfolk; Mr. J. W. Glenn, of South Boston; W.

E. Dhillon, of Richmond; and T. E. Roberts, of Chase City; with the over-prudent colored attendant, and chaser, Jim Keene, on his charger. The party and fourteen hounds were housed safely and soundly to a nine o'clock breakfast, but without the sign of a fox this time, though they have been almost daily caught in short order in other chases during the week; but "we" had lots of fun for four hours.

Some prominent tobacco men have been here this week, among them Mr. T. B. Yule, of the A. T. Company, of New York, who has been staying at the hotel, his family here on his return to New York; Colonel O. W. Dudley, of Danville, Va.; J. P. Taylor and Jno. D. Cooper, of Henderson, N. C.; J. W. Glenn, of South Boston, Va.; Mrs. R. M. C. Glenn and family, of New York City.

Quite a number of guests of other Virginia resorts are taking in the Mecklenburg on their return home, and are delighted with this place, so much in contrast with the most of the old time resorts. A great many people here recovering and to recover from obstinate cutaneous diseases, such as eczema, for which the water and bath treatment here have proven a real specific, as in many other blood, stomach, rheumatic diseases, etc.

Long term and winter guests are making arrangements with the Mecklenburg earlier than ever before.

In about a week or ten days the bird and fox hunters from the North and other points will begin to assemble here in earnest with their fine trappings, dogs and guns. So one event of the season is another at different seasons at the Mecklenburg.

The summer sales of the mineral waters here have been constantly increasing, and are so satisfactory in testimonials of their merits wherever used.

The crowd here is reluctant and slow in thinning out; all are loth to leave. A number of well behaved children of all ages are here, who brighter rather than proving a bane to life, inasmuch as there is no much room for them to roam there is no much room for them to roam there is no much room for them to roam ever without hurt.

Lynchburg has worthy representation of Mr. and Mrs. T. Ashley Watts, often guests here before, and who insist of humbly keep both nurse and parents busy.

LOVERS OF MUSIC AT WARM SPRINGS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WARM SPRINGS, Sept. 9.—The lovers of music had a genuine treat on Thursday evening, when Mr. John Powell, of Richmond, gave a piano recital. The audience, which was a large and cultivated one, were enthusiastic in their appreciation and praise of the musician, and their best wishes will go with him in October, where he returns to Vienna to continue his studies under Leschetzky; his master, who gives the highest commendation of his pupil, for his fine technique and quick interpretation and says his future, which promises to make him famous, will be more especially in his composition. His Daisie Americana on Thursday evening, brought forth a tremendous encore.

Mr. F. L. Ross, of Mobile, entertained most delightfully at dinner on Friday evening. Covers were laid for ten. Miss Francis Scott and Miss Elmo Branch, of Richmond; Miss Dunn, Miss Hildreth Dunn and Miss Maury; Mr. George Cole Scott, Mr. W. M. Dunn, Mr. G. Graniss and Mr. Ross.

Miss Francis Scott, of Richmond, is often seen with a charming coaching party at the Warm. She is always warmly welcomed and is universally admired. The clover-leaf party, which was given by Miss Gladys Cobb, on the beautiful lawn of Mr. and Mrs. George L. W. Gibson's cottage, was a great success. Miss Stevenson, who played thirty-five four-leaf clovers, carried off the first prize. Miss Matry, of Mobile, followed close with twenty-seven and received the second prize. All fresco refreshments were charmingly served.

A most enjoyable party of two tables of "break" was given on Mrs. Fred McGraw's piazza. This game bids fair to rival bridge. The initiated are enthusiastic.

Mrs. Felton gave a farewell party of bridge to Mrs. Hanson, of Macon, whose departure is much regretted. There is no diminution in the number of entertainments, the newcomers giving an added zest. Alps on Alps in the way of cards, driving parties, riding parties, suppers, lunches and others, the dolce far niente days are gliding happily by.

It is officially announced that Mrs. Tubank has renewed the lease on the Warm Springs for ten years. Numberless are the congratulations she is receiving from her friends, who wish her every success.

GAYETY LINGERS AT OLD CROCKETT

Cool Nights Are Followed By Days of Golden Sunshine.

DELIGHTFUL COUNTRY DANCE

Old-Time Reels and Square Dances Bring Out the Crowd.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CROCKETT SPRINGS, VA., September 9.—Though in this crisp climate the mild September sun shines warm and golden by day, by night the chilly fingers of the autumn breezes and spirits of the air are nipping the tender leaves and splashing their emerald surfaces with sleet and yellow and brown.

During the past week many enjoyments have crowded upon us; for our time is short, and we are getting as much out of it as possible.

On Tuesday the midnight supper given by Mrs. Holland to her numerous friends was well attended, for it is considered a personal loss to miss one of her charming entertainments, and her guests on this occasion gave glowing accounts of the warmth of their reception and the bountiful provision made for their enjoyment. Mrs. Holland is a beautiful type of womanhood, and possesses high degree those characteristics that distinguish the truly Southern ideal.

On Wednesday and Thursday nights Mrs. W. G. Baldwin entertained the married folk. On each occasion an elegant supper was served, and the guests were approaching when the guests said "good-night" to their hostess and sought the quiet of their rooms. Mrs. Baldwin is eminently a believer in the good old doctrine, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," and she is never happier than when bestowing pleasure upon others.

One of the most pleasant social features of the week was the peanut hunt given by Miss Etheridge, of Norfolk. Young and old joined enthusiastically in the search for the "goobers" to fill their empty bags, the Hon. Messrs. Hennessey and Weakly, with others of equal dignity and importance in the legal and literary world, crawling on their hands and knees among the grass and bushes, while the peanut hunters, in a poor price. The lucky ones were Dr. Davis and Mr. R. Wilkinson.

While I think of it, Dr. Davis deserves special mention and enjoys the special regard of the Crockett guests. He fills the position of resident physician of Crockett's with much efficiency and skill and has endeared himself not only to those who have been his patients, but to many others as well.

Thursday morning the notably charitable Mrs. Wicks assembled many of the ladies on the front veranda and organized a sewing bee, for the benefit of a poor family in the neighborhood. The kind-hearted ladies sewed industriously the entire morning, their labor of love being rendered additionally pleasant by a delightful reading given by Mr. Weakly, of Alabama.

A most enjoyable affair was the Kafe-katch, given by Mr. and Mrs. Moss, of Louisiana, in their rooms. The familiar aroma of the best Mocha and Java, the pleasant tones of the clarinet, the merry peals of laughter awakened envious thought in the minds of the unfortunate outsiders. Mrs. Moss is a most dainty and thoroughly attractive little lady, and well represents the State noted for the beauty and grace of its women.

The subscription card sets of Friday night was a great success. The play was very exciting, the game being long and hotly contested by the large company assembled around the card tables. The prizes were a set of gold shirt-waist pins, won by Mrs. Baldwin; a gold brooch, by Miss Crockett; a silver snuff bag, by Mr. Reading Wilkinson.

One of the most distinctive social functions of the week was the progressive euchre party of Monday night. The prizes were won by Mrs. Moss, Miss Wilkinson, Miss Laura Lee.

OLD-TIME COUNTRY DANCE. Saturday night was the occasion of an old-time country dance. The largest crowd of the season thronged the ballroom and made merry in the inimitable Virginia reel, the lancers and similar dances. These good old square dances! When they went out of vogue, how much whole-hearted fun and enjoyment went with them! We have discarded them almost completely for the two-step and the waltz. Our fathers and mothers knew better.

This has been a happy and busy week with the children. On Thursday the little ones had a doughnut party, the prizes being won by Alice Seed.

On Tuesday the Misses Ethel Thomas and Mary Worth entertained their friends at a delightful tea party on the lower veranda, out of sight and reach of the grown folks.

The little ones played games, and afterwards a portion of a most inviting repast, consisting of all sorts of good things to eat. Among those present were Ethel Thomas, the restless sprit with the bright eyes and the wonderful hair; the demure and womanly Bula Weakly; dear little Katie, the picture-book little Ello Page, Alice Seed, a tiny maid with lustrous eyes, nut brown curls and kiss-inviting lips; clever Alice Coudge, Mary Worth, Alice Richardson, Ralph Seed and many others.

Among the new arrivals are Miss Suzanne Danby, of Mississippi, a dainty, spirituelle girl, whom it is pleasant to see, and fortunate to know; Miss Johnson, a splendid brunette beauty from Georgia; Mrs. Irvine, who sows good deeds like flowers wherever she goes; Miss Copper, an exceedingly bright, entertaining girl from Vicksburg, the handsome Mrs. Ello Page and her pretty little daughter, from the University of Virginia.

We regret to announce the departure of Mr. E. G. Pratt, of New York. While at Crockett's Mr. Pratt, by his geniality, his ready wit, his unfailing spirit of kindness and charity towards all made himself so generally agreeable and entertaining and so deservedly popular that we feel quite lost without him.

Somewhere the crowd continues at Crockett's, for it is difficult to tear one's self away from such a place as this, and there are new arrivals almost every day.

The latest are J. D. Lee, North Carolina; C. H. Barnwell, L. H. Moss, Florida; Mr. and Mrs. Danby, Miss Danby, Mrs. H. L. L. Coppie, Misses Coppie, Mississippi; H. B. Reardon, wife and son, Miss Serrill, W. B. Allen, Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. Irvine, Georgia; A. T. Kindred, Roanoke; S. D. Helms, Miss Billie, Shawsville, J. H. Price, New York; Miss E. M. de Labonowski, Richmond.

Isn't It So? When a girl thinks that she has pretty teeth almost every old chestnut that who hears is to her a funny story.—Somerville Journal.
